Q2: Recommendation 1

I support recommendation 1 but recommend that the taskforce consider the following (add comment):

Comment

Just some questions that may need clarification for those attempting the transition plan..."proposed financial administration of the district," - Does this mean who will be in charge of the finances? "insurance coverage for the district."- Does this mean it just has to address that the District will get its own insurance? It would be impossible to actually get the insurance before the District is created. "provision of legal services for the district,"-again...does it just have to address that the District will get legal services?

Q3: Recommendation 2

I support recommendation 2

Q4: Recommendation 3

I support recommendation 3 but recommend that the taskforce consider the following (add comment):

Comment

This one somewhat confuses me. If ALL of a territory becomes part of a library district why would the City or County have to ensure the level of services?

Comment

I like the idea of requiring a transition plan, but would recommend that specific steps be provided to create such a plan. While the matters you raise do need to be addressed, the last thing that a newly independent library district needs is more hoops to jump through without clear guidelines of what is expected of them.

Oppose

Q2: Recommendation 1

I oppose recommendation 1,

Comment

New districts will have to work with the State Library--at that point, the State Library should recommend and provide guidance for transition planning.

Q3: Recommendation 2

I oppose recommendation 2,

Comment

Local library services are best sorted out on the local level by those who are served--if it matters to the community they will make it happen. If it seriously damages the communities--the commission will already be considering that when they decide to allow it to move forward. The case will also then be put before the voters who can be entrusted with that decision for themselves. The interpretation of what exactly what this means and who is responsible for it will only cause more legal quagmire and unintended negative consequences.

Q1: I generally (support/oppose/neither support nor oppose) the State Library and Montana Library Association's effort to improve Montana Code in order to make it easier to create and administer library districts.

Support,

Comment

I support the Task Force's original goal of making it easier to create a district, and thank the State Librarian and Task Force members for their work on this project.

Q2: Recommendation 1

I oppose recommendation 1 but would support it if the taskforce made the following changes (add comment):

Comment

Recommend changing the last word from "agreement" to "plan." Also, to properly respect the public's representation and voice, and to limit conflicts of interest/appearance of impropriety, any final plan should be perfected between the County Commissioners and the ELECTED District Trustees, not those Trustees which the County Commissioners would temporarily appoint.

Q3: Recommendation 2

I oppose recommendation 2,

Comment

Why would the Task Force support a setup that intrinsically requires the taxpayers to fund two different sets of library services? That doesn't happen with other tax-supported services and districts, and is at the most elemental level contradictory to Montana's tax structure. This proposal would undercut the way the original districting statutes were designed to work and is inconsistent with the most basic goal outlined for the Task Force effort (see first survey item).

I do support the idea of the changes, how ever I am very skeptical about opening statute.

Q2: Recommendation 1

I support recommendation 1 but recommend that the taskforce consider the follow ing (add comment):

This is a good idea but I think it could be accomplished by making the library district handbook more robust and doing more training for those libraries interested in creating districts. I don't think this warrants opening statute.

Support,

I support endeavors to make things easier for future generations. I really don't feel I have the authority to contribute to this discussion as it involves public libraries only and I represent special library services and needs, hence I'm not familiar with public library needs; so feel free to take my comments with a grain of salt. I hope it helps anyway.

Q2: Recommendation 1

I support recommendation 1 but recommend that the taskforce consider the following (add comment):

Q3: Recommendation 2

I support recommendation 2

Q4: Recommendation 3

I support recommendation 3 but recommend that the taskforce consider the following (add comment):

Comment

Have in place a contingency plan in the event if the community feels this has not been met. Everyone's definition and perception of level of service is different - this may also need to be clarified. For example, if one service line was dropped, but three other new services were added, there are those who would feel that the library's level of service was dropped because they relied on the one service and do not use the other new services. Have wording to clarify the meaning or terms of level of service reduction so there's no ambiguity.

Comment

Having current statutes opened up makes me nervous.

Although it may take a few more months to get the new library district off the ground, I feel it would be well worth the time to make sure it is done with forethought and preparation.

I am very concerned about making sure library services are maintained in areas that may have a major portion of their tax base taken away by other library districts in the county.
