Stories

Billings Public Library - "Patrons of Yellowstone County can find reviews, guides, and recommendations for fiction reading for all ages."

Carnegie Public Library - "A decade ago, we in library land worried that digital libraries would lower the need for physical libraries. I am happy to have been part of this point in history that proved how important, flexible and fluid libraries are. MontanaLibrary2go has only expanded our horizons and enriched our offerings to the public."

Carnegie Public Library - "The purchase of a new Lenovo laptop and Adobe software to keep the library, librarians and patrons well informed."

Stillwater County Library - "Purchased crates for the Partners sharing group to continue our material sharing in a timely fashion."

Big Horn County Public Library - "We used these funds to replace the computer and software in the children's department when its hard drive completely crashed in May of 2019."

Big Horn County Public Library - "Used the funds to help pay for our yearly cost for Montana Shared Catalog."

Harlowton Public Library - "This new color printer has an automatic feeder that will print multiple pages without doing them one at a time. Patrons often only need a copy occasionally, so don't really need a printer at home. People that have printers that run out of ink and would have to drive 60 - 90 miles to replace ink or wait for their order to come in the mail can come to the library and print what they need to have now. Our color printer is also wireless to be used by people that have the HP App, so they are able to print from their devices. This service gives people peace of mind knowing we have this service for them we the need it."

Harlowton Public Library - "This new black and white printer is available for people to use on their own or with help. This machine has an automatic feeder for copying multiple pages and will do two sided. The two sided ability makes copying both sides much easier than trying to do one page at a time and trying to make sure you have it the right side up to print the back side."

Harlowton Public Library - "We replace 2-6 computers every year to keep our computers new enough that they run smoothly for a better experience for our patrons. We have 12 - 16 working public access computers at all times. This allows for people who need to look answers and/or print forms for family situations, social security, medicare, healthcare, unemployment, job service or just use it for pleasure. We have a large number of students that use the computers after school mostly for entertainment. WE do have a 30 minute use rule if we need it, but other people would have to wait until their time is up. Having this many computers is easier since you only need a basic computer as people pretty much are searching the web, using social media or playing a game. We have a great network and IT guy, so it works!"

Harlowton Public Library - "Montanalibrary2go has been a great asset for our library. The ability to download audio books to listen to while you are in swathing, combining or other field work or being the one to do night calving or being in the lambing shed is really appreciated by our Patrons. We have other patrons tell us that audio books are great when they are cleaning house, sewing, knitting/crocheting, embroidering or even cooking. Others find that ebooks are a great way to read books that your library may not have or the just don't want to hold a heavy book It is a convenient way to read a book in our adult room without bright lights. Great Program".

Joliet Public Library - "These monies enable us to provide wi-fi and internet service for our patrons. It also enables us to keep up to date well maintained computer terminals for use in the library proper. It also benefits the staff in that they have the ability to answer questions and use the catalog and interlibrary loan thru OCLC."

Laurel Public Library - "South Central Federation members voted to donate funds to MontanaLibrary2Go so that all Montana patrons may benefit from being able to access digital content."

Laurel Public Library - "SCF spent $967.85 on book club kits title in FY19 for all member libraries to use. We purchased 8 copies of 11 different book titles for FY18/19."

Red Lodge Carnegie Library - "What would a library be without a catalog? By being a member library of the MSC, my small library gains access to expert system admins and trainers and offers our community access to our collection online and through the BookMyne app. Thanks to the collected resources of the consortium and excellent negotiation from MSL staff, my library and our patrons get an incredible return on this investment. [Note: the total cost for our MSC membership fees was $1887.95. The additional $247.47 was covered by local tax revenue.]".

Bicentennial Library of Colstrip - "Actual expense for Montana Shared Catalog was 2,156.32. The federation amount really helps Bicentennial Library afford the Montana Shared Catalog."

Rosebud County Library - "Our total expenses for the Montana Shared Catalog for FY19 were $2,156.33 so over 76% of our costs were covered by our Federation Award."

Denton Public Library - "Our main computer crashed and had to have it shipped out for repair."

Denton Public Library - "At our Library, we invite the local children to learn about Arbor Day, the importance of trees and we also made it into a Clean up day. The children learned why we need trees, they then went around town and picked up garbage in our parks. Afterward the were rewarded with a pizza party".

Lewistown Public Library - "The Lewistown Public Library is a member of the MontanaLibrary2Go consortium through Overdrive, and as such, we are able to provide quality digital library services to our rural community. MontanaLibrary2Go provides both e-books and audio books through a user friendly, digital platform. This resource greatly expands our collection and offers diversity in format options available to our patrons. Also, many patrons use this digital library frequently due to our large geographic region served. The cost of Overdrive can be prohibitive. The FY 18/19 cost to our Library was $2,804.40. The $1,640.40 that the Federation gave us helped cover this subscription leaving $1,163.92 in remaining costs that was covered by local funding. Again, this service is used widely by our patrons and with the help of the Federation we can continue to offer this service to our patrons."

Moore Memorial Public Library - "Used for Portion not covered by e-rate".

She had each child shake a container with cream in it to get butter. Showing results from their work. We hold the program for k-12 but have many "littles" that attend which we don't turn them away. Laurel Public Library - "Our library purchased gift cards to give to Summer Reading participants as prizes for our drawing at the end of the summer. Red Lodge Carnegie Library - "The Red Lodge Carnegie Library received a USB Energy+ Grant from Northwestern Energy to cover 90% of total project costs for a solar array. I created a poster highlighting the project - the system itself, the project costs, and proposed timeline. It included a "thermometer" to show our progress with local fundraising - we needed $3000 and got it! The poster was displayed in the library and also used at our booth during the community Earth Day Block Party - an annual event located outside the library. [Note: the poster actually cost $50.00. The additional $20.18 needed was covered by local donations to the project through the city's general fund.]".

This allows those same libraries to order book kits for their patrons that they would otherwise not be able to afford."
