The following comment was submitted to the State Library Commission.

We are part of the Waking Giant community group in Helena and recently visited Missoula's library. We have access to lots of tools and other items for crafts, and would like to increase the options for a tool library and other non-traditional library items being able to be checked out at Helena's L&C library. Does this commission have any influence or authority to help us navigate this goal and to help set that up?
